Bucks Picks Newtown Site For College

The Bucks County Community College has found a home.

A 200-acre tract near Newtown, formerly part of the Tyler Estate and now owned by Temple University, is slated to be the site for the Bucks two-year college.

The announcement was made today by the college board of trustees, which said final negotiations for purchase of the site are under way.

$700,000 Price

The price of $700,000 for the land and buildings, it has been reported by reliable sources.

Stephen B. Hazzard, chairman of the board's building and sites committee, said an agreement with Temple "has been reached, subject to final legal and financial negotiations." It has also been reliably reported that the only item yet to be settled is whether the agreement should be lease-purchase or outright purchase.

"The hoped-for final approval of the site would pave the way for opening of the college this September, only 10 months after the establishment of the board of trustees by the county board of commissioners," Hazzard stated.

"After exhaustive study by our committee and the county planning commission, I feel there's no doubt this would be the most desirable and practical site in the county for a college which can truly serve the entire county community," said Hazzard.

The 200-acre estate was formerly bequeathed to Temple University by the late Mrs. Stella Elkins Tyler. Mrs. Tyler's interest in education and the arts led to a previous bequest resulting in the present Tyler School of Art in Cheltenham Township. Mrs. Tyler was a noted sculptress.

Existing Structures

The site borders Swamp Road about a mile behind Council Rock High School. Neshaminy

Creek winds its way through the rear of the property.

Situated on the landscaped grounds are these existing structures in the Norman style of architecture which would be renovated into permanent campus buildings:

Norman architecture was the inspiration for the castle-like Tyler Mansion, near Newtown. Shown is a front view of the center section of the main building and the snow-covered ground, soon to become a college campus.

Southampton Man Killed

A Southampton father of a six-year-old daughter was killed last night when his car crashed into an oil truck on Street Road in Warminster.

It was the fifth Bucks County highway fatality this year.

Pronounced dead at the scene was Billy W. Souther, 27, of 564 Street Road, a mechanic at Grow's Service Station, Street Road and Willow Ave., Southampton.

Warminster police said the oil truck, a tractor-trailer, was turning into Street Road from the Warminster Industrial Park, at Mearns Road about a half-mile east of York Road, when Souther's car struck it broadside. The impact buckled the side of the trailer and some 1,900 gallons of fuel oil spilled on the highway.

The Warminster and Hartsville Fire companies washed down the road.

Souther was pronounced dead at the scene by Dr. Michael Crozier of 515 W. Street Road, Warminster.

The driver of the fuel truck was John Petran, 37, of Allentown. The truck is owned by the Reilly Fuel Oil Co. of Bethlehem.

Souther is survived by his wife, Louise, and their daughter, Annette.

Souther's car, a 1962 coupe, was demolished. The accident occurred at 10:30 p.m.

Condition Deteriorates

Physician Reports Churchill 'Failing'

LONDON, Tuesday (UPI) — Sir Winston Churchill's personal physician was called to his bedside at 2:10 a.m. (9:10 p.m. EST) today, giving rise to fears that death of the 90-year-old soldier statesman was near.

A police inspector was called into the house at 4:04 a.m. (11:04 p.m. EST). Shortly after he emerged and told newsmen "There is nothing imminent at the moment."

There had been speculation that should Sir Winston's death occur there would be no immediate announcement. It would first be necessary to inform Queen Elizabeth II, the prime minister, the cabinet and key members of parliament.

Neshaminy Proposal Up $1,400,000

Middletown To Get School Tax Boost

By GREG NAGY
Courier-Times Staff Writer

The preliminary budget for the new fiscal year of the Neshaminy Joint School District is about 23 per cent higher than last year's actual budget.

In a meeting last night of the Middletown Township School Board, the members predicted an increase in the township's millage rate would be necessary. They did not estimate what the increase would be because the budget was just given to them and they did not have an opportunity to study it, they said.

For the present fiscal year, July 1, 1964, to July 1, 1965, the budget is $6,119,000.

Last year the Middletown board managed to cut the increases in the preliminary budget by approximately one-half, the members said. The board did not comment on the extent of cuts it might make this year. However, it is expected to cut some of the increases.

Added expenses which cannot be cut include an increase in the debt service rental to cover bonds issued for the additions to Neshaminy High School. Also cited were $300,000 for putting teacher's salaries on a new schedule, $180,000 for new teachers and $75,000 for the Bucks County Technical School.

Preliminary Figure

The total preliminary budget is in the vicinity of $7,500,000.

John E. Paul, business manager of the school district, said it would "take about two months" before the Neshaminy Joint Board completes studies of the budget and acts on it. The school tax rates for the communities in the Neshaminy District are determined by the individual boards within the jointure on the basis of the number of students in jointure schools.

The Middletown school board pays for 62 per cent of the district's budget and is the largest of six municipalities in the district.

What's Florida

Got We Haven't?

"C'mon up, the weather's fine."

A bit in reverse of the fellow on television who does the commercials for sunny Florida.

But the low reading here today was 14 degrees, only one degree colder than at Tallahassee, Fla. It was a bit warmer, though, in Miami (30) and Miami Beach (38).

While Florida beaches were deserted because of the cold wave, Lower Bucks Countians continued to shiver in the frigid seige in its sixth straight day.

The thermometer was expected in the low 30s today and tomorrow. The last time temperatures went above the freezing point (32 degrees) was last Thursday at 4 a.m. At 1 p.m. today the mercury stood at 27 degrees.

'Mexican Holiday'

Welcoming Party, Then A Bullfight

By CAROLYN CALKINS
Courier-Times Travel Editor

Sunday, March 21 at 4 p.m. is bullfight time.

Our seats are reserved on the shady side of the arena from where we'll get top enjoyment of this magnificent spectacle.

The place is Mexico City, first stop on the "Mexican Holiday" sponsored by the Courier-Times in cooperation with Bristol Travel Service and Air France.

Cocktail Party

Departure date is March 20 via Air France Flight 707. Our introduction to Mexican hospitality begins with a welcoming cocktail party at our hotel, the Continental Hilton.

While in Mexico City we'll have plenty of time to explore the infinite variety of attractions and gallery of wonders.

On Tuesday the group will set out through the countryside to the famous spa of Ixtapan. After a day of relaxation either by the swimming pool or on the golf course, we'll depart over scenic roads to charming Taxco, the silver capital and art colony of Mexico.

Ample Time

Here there will be ample time to wander down the narrow winding streets and visit the splendid stores.

The next stop will be at the Playground of the Americas, Acapulco, where we'll be staying at the Hotel Ritz.

Treats for our enjoyment in Acapulco include a choice of a glass-bottom boat trip or an afternoon yacht cruise or a sail on Acapulco Bay and the Pacific Ocean or perhaps a day of deep-sea fishing.

Farewell Party

Good Evening!

S. O. Batting for G. G. G.

Inaugural tomorrow.

President Johnson will take a 35-word oath and then start out on four years of his stewardship. He appears more than capable of handling domestic affairs. How well his touch can be applied to foreign problems the next four years will tell.

Pierre du Pont just accomplished what a lot of other civic-minded people feel they will have to do. He resigned all his business posts in the company bearing his name so he can devote his full attention to his personal affairs.

Now he can work full-time on the American Museum of Immigration, Freedoms Foundation and other civic affairs.

Who should know better how to throw a banquet than the Restaurateurs themselves.

And Pete Chesner and his colleagues proved again last night their affair has to be one of the highlights of the year.

Five bankers have quit the World's Fair as advisers.

They claim that despite a 25 per cent admission rise next year, the fair needs millions to operate before it does open.

Robert Moses, who sometimes is more remote and omnipotent than his namesake, doesn't agree with the bankers, according to Moses' public relations man.

The Great Man says he will issue a statement shortly refuting these charges.

The AAU's new president says he hopes to end the war with the NCAA over who will control track.

Maybe the new president's name has something to do with his desire. It's Buck.

And this fellow wanted his wife to go on a diet so he bought her a mink coat three sizes too small.

Be careful.

At Inaugural Warmup

Humphrey Shares Spotlight Today

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Vice President-elect Hubert H. Humphrey and 47 governors shared the spotlight today at inaugural festivities which will reach a climax Wednesday with the swearing-in of President Johnson.

Today's semifinal events included a reception for governors, a huge party for Humphrey, a dance for Young Democrats, and an inaugural concert at Constitution Hall.

Also on the program were a breakfast for Democratic governors, a meeting of the Democratic National Committee, and dozens of state society dinners and cocktail parties.

Although Republicans generally had that left-out feeling, GOP governors were included among the 47 state chief executives who were honored at the reception. The governors of Wisconsin, New Mexico and South Dakota couldn't make it, but sent representatives.

Humphrey and his wife, Muriel, were taking their bows at a late afternoon party in the Shoreham Hotel ballroom, attended by everybody who is anybody in Democratic politics.

Inundated by visitors from every part of the nation, Washington had the slightly frenzied atmosphere of a city which suddenly discovers that it has booked a political convention during the same week as the Mardi Gras. Hotels were filled to the broom closets, taxis were hard to find, and it was easier to get a cabinet appointment (Continued on Page 24, Col. 5)

Canal Zone Gov.: 'We've Got A Problem'

By GEORGE G. GRAY
Editor, Courier-Times

PANAMA CITY, PANAMA — Delayed — Robert J. Fleming, a crisp, opinionated and frank-speaking major general in the U. S. Army, is the governor of the Panama Canal Zone.

There was a time when this thing of bossing 14,000 employees needed to operate the canal and look after the Zone's security was a pleasant four-year tour of duty.

For General Fleming, who still has another year to go, the job has been a very large headache, although he probably wouldn't admit it.

It has been during his tenure that nationalistic aspirations of the Republic of Panama, however real and sincere they might be, have burst into violence — through no fault of his, to be sure.

Since the Jan. 9, 1964 riots and bloodshed, ostensibly caused by flag incidents but which in reality were an explosion of decades of pent-up Panamanian frustrations, the Canal Zone has become something of a no-man's land as far as the more militant citizens of the Republic are concerned.

The general's job isn't easy. Efficiency of canal operation perhaps has never been greater. He's got the respect of his Zone people. He's won the grudging admiration of more thoughtful Panamanian officials.

Middletown Takes 1st Step For New Elementary School

By GREG NAGY
Courier-Times Staff Writer

The Middletown Township School Board took the first step toward construction of an elementary school on the Swain tract in upper Middletown at its regular meeting last night.

The board unanimously passed a motion to submit an application for preliminary state approval of the project.

The board hopes to complete construction of the school by 1966 or 1967. At present, the application calls for a school of 20 classrooms, but by the time it is reviewed by the state the number may be changed.

Cost Not Available

An architect for the project has not as yet been assigned and therefore an estimate of the cost is not available.

The Swain tract is in the vicinity of Toll Gate and Felling Mill Roads, about two miles east of the Neshaminy Junior High School now under construction.

The school board also heard a request by Mrs. Gladys Johnson of 2155 Old Lincoln Highway Langhorne, to join her and other residents in making a court appeal to the decision of the Middletown Zoning Board of Adjustments. Mrs. Johnson complained of an approval for a variance allowing Gill Quarry to operate a portable patching machine, a type of concrete mixing device.

Dust, Noise, Shocks

Among complaints against the quarry, which adjoins the property of Neshaminy High School, residents cite dust, noise, blasting shocks and hazardous traffic conditions.

The Middletown school directors said they would forward Mrs. Johnson's request to the Neshaminy joint board, which holds its next meeting Tuesday.

Mayor Warns Residents

Tullytown Seeks Snow Ordinance

By DYANNE MARRON
Courier-Times Staff Writer

Mayor Nicholas Eberle issued a temporary order last night at Tullytown Borough Council meeting that all cars be removed from Main St. and streets in the Levittown section of the borough no later than one hour after a snowfall begins until four hours after it ceases.

Cars parked on the streets during those hours will be towed away at the cost of the owner, he said.

The mayor said the order was brought about by "a condition that has to be corrected" in order to facilitate snow removal.

Ordinance Proposed

Anthony Biancosino, chairman of the street committee, said: "It's impossible to do a good job (plowing) with cars parked on the side of the roads."

Council voted that a resolution for an ordinance be drafted, but not before a lengthy discussion evolved among councilmen on the subject.

Councilman Edward Hunt objected to the order in that it exempted persons on the side streets of Tullytown from having to remove cars from the streets.

"If you're going to make an ordinance, let it apply to all."

No Facilities

To that Biancosino replied: "These streets are excluded from the order because there are no parking facilities other than the street itself. What are these people to do, park their cars in Bristol Township? It has problems of its own."

Striking at the order again, Hunt said: "There is an ordinance in the borough now stating that sidewalks be cleared within 24 hours after a snowfall which is not being enforced. If you're going to do something, then do it right."

Despite Hunt's persistence, council voted that an ordinance be drafted. Meanwhile, the mayor's temporary order is in effect.

Road Repairs For Tullytown Asked

Anthony Biancosino, chairman of Tullytown Borough Street Committee, said at the council meeting last night that street repairs mainly in the Stony Brook section of Tullytown must be made this year.

"Since no major repairs were made on roads last year," he said, "we must make some this year."

The street committee will meet with borough engineer William Major to determine what the situation is and what is to be done before specifications can be set up.

Fire Chief Richard W. Anderson

County Buys 7-Acre Tract

The Bucks County Commissioners yesterday signed an agreement of sale for $75,000 with William H. Milnor to purchase seven acres of land on Bath Road in Bristol Township.

The tract was once slated for a $1 million apartment project overlooking Silver Lake. The tract was condemned by the commissioners several weeks ago.

person in a letter to council made a request for volunteer firemen available especially during the regular working hours. He asked that interested persons attend the bi-monthly drills.

Mayor Nicholas Eberle announced he will appoint an assistant chief of police if Walterick is to be in the hospital for two weeks or more.

Horace Greeley McNab, public relations director for the Levittown Shopping Center, asked council for advice on how to go about obtaining a permit to display fireworks on Feb. 22 near the shopping center. He said he had a registered pyrotechnician to set them off. Council moved that a permit be granted him, and that he contact Fire Chief Anderson.

Biancosino welcomed McNab and said he was glad to see him at the meeting. "Anytime any of you 'over there' have something to say we'll be glad to see you over here."

3rd Arrested For Fighting

A third man has been arrested following a couple of street fights in Levittown over the weekend.

John R. Bowden, 20, of 21 Whitewood Drive, Levittown, was arrested last night by Bristol Township Patrolman John Schwaab.

Arrested before Justice of the Peace James V. Parto, Tullytown Borough, Bowden was released on $1,000 bail for a hearing on Jan. 26 on charges of breach of peace, assault and battery and aggravated assault and battery.

The complaint was filed by Charles Stiltner of 48 Strawberry Lane, Stonybrook, Levittown, who told police he was beaten up outside the Moose Hall on Newportville Road after a wedding reception.

Stiltner brought charges against Allen Shemely, 21, of 82 Idlewild Road, Indian Creek, Levittown. On Sunday, a fight developed in front of the Shemely residence, police reported, with Allen and his brother, Wayne, being attacked.

This brawl resulted in the arrest of Robert V. Costanzi, 20, of Scranton, identified by police as a friend of Stiltner's.

Costanzi and Allen Shemely were released in $1,000 bail each for a hearing before JP Parto on similar charges of assault and battery and surety of the peace.

Two prisoners who last night slipped away from the rehabilitation center in Edison, near Doylestown, and fled in an auto parked at the institution, were picked up this morning by police in Danville, Va.

The two had escaped from the minimum security institution in a 1960 white Chevrolet convertible.

Racing Club Seeks Home

The Penn Jersey Quarter-Midget Race Club is seeking a home in Falls Township for its racing events.

A hearing on the request will be held tomorrow at 8 p.m. before the township zoning board. The requested site is the township's original landfill on the northwest corner of Route 13 and Tyburn Road, adjacent to the Pennsylvania Railroad.

Racing sites are hard to secure. The Pennel Quarter-Midget Club tried unsuccessfully about a year-and-a-half ago to get a permit for operation in Falls. It was also turned down by Lower Makefield, and is consequently without a race track and inactive.

The Penn Jersey Club was incorporated last summer.

The board will also hear a request from the Reedman Corp. for permission to construct a restaurant on the second floor of its new service building on Route 1 near Strick Trailer.

Two other requests to be heard are from Abraham Bacon who wants to provide take-out service in his delicatessen in the Big C Discount Store, Fairless Hills Shopping Center, and from Emidio Vanni who wants to construct a garage with less than the required front yard set back on Route 1 adjacent to Wamsley Pontiac.

L.A. Ram To Be Screen Tarzan

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Mike Henry, Los Angeles Rams line-backer, signed a movie contract today to become the next screen Tarzan, the 14th since the series began in 1918.

The 6-foot-3 former Pittsburgh Steeler player will star in the title role of "Tarzan, 65," in which the traditionally monosyllabic ape man will swing in Mexico City instead of the African jungles.

Henry is a seven-year veteran of the National Football League.

"I don't think the other players in the league will kid me about playing Tarzan," he said. "They're too busy playing football."

Henry had asked to be traded from Pittsburgh to Los Angeles because of his movie aspirations.

Barry, Nixon To Attend Session

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Barry M. Goldwater and Richard M. Nixon, the last two Republican presidential nominees, plan to attend the GOP National Committee meeting at Chicago Friday and Saturday.

They were among the five living former presidential candidates invited to the two-day gathering. Alfred M. Landon, Thomas E. Dewey and former President Dwight D. Eisenhower are not expected to attend.

Nixon is scheduled to preside at a national committee lunch session Friday.

Langhorne Man Injured

Robert McAndrew, 26, of Route 1, Langhorne, was treated for chest injuries suffered in an accident yesterday at 10:30 a.m. on Oxford Valley Road and Route 1, Falls Township.

He was taken to Lower Bucks Hospital by the Levittown Fairless Hills Rescue Squad.

Driver of the second car was Frank Daughtry, 30, of Bristol Terrace, Bristol Township. He was charged with passing a red light, police reported.

tective Thawley Hayman were on their way to Danville to bring the prisoners back.

One of the prisoners had only 28 days to go before becoming eligible to apply for parole.

He is Robert Pearl, 22, of 70 Main St., Yardley. His companion is John D. Hawkins, 28, of 699 W. Trenton Ave., Morrisville.

The two made their escape about 7:30 p.m. from the minimum security center which permits its prisoners to accept jobs elsewhere. The prisoners have the freedom of going to work each day and returning to the center in the evening.

Cars For Jobs

The center also permits prisoners to keep cars for use in going to their jobs.

The car Pearl and Hawkins used in their escape belonged to a prisoner. About half of the 40 inmates have jobs they go to each day. Neither Pearl or Hawkins had outside jobs to go to.

Pearl was serving a one-to-18-month sentence for larceny coupled with a previous escape attempt. Last year he was among three prisoners caught after five escaped from Bucks County Prison in Doylestown.

Hawkins was serving two years for violation of parole on a burglary sentence.

Pearl is five feet, 10 inches tall and weighs 146 pounds.

Hawkins is five feet eight inches tall and weighs 150 pounds. Both are white. The license number of the stolen car is B39772.

Danville Police Chief E. G. McCain told the Courier-Times today that a Danville police car spotted the white car with Pennsylvania license tags shortly after 11 a.m. when it looked suspicious.

Brief Case

Chief McCain said there was a brief chase when Pearl and Hawkins picked up speed but that the police chased the car into a Sears Roebuck parking lot.

He said the two offered no resistance. "In fact," the chief said, "they didn't look like they were too unhappy about being caught."

McCain said one of the men told him they had bought some beer and that they had a grand time. Pearl also told the chief he would have been eligible to apply for parole next month.

Loan Brings 75 New Jobs

Secretary of Commerce and Pennsylvania Industrial Development Authority Board Chairman John K. Tabor today announced the presentation of a check for $67,200 from PIDA to Bucks County Industrial Development Corporation for a project that will create an estimated 75 new jobs in the county.

Eleven other loans to projects in Bucks County have been given approval by PIDA for a total of $2,289,436.

The Pennsylvania Industrial Development Authority loan of $67,200 was a 40 per cent second mortgage for a new building for Arthur R. Lewis, Inc.

The project covers 15,000 square feet on an 18-acre site in Perkasee and will result in an estimated annual payroll of $375,000.

The check was presented by Britton Murdoch, regional representative of the State Department of Commerce's Bureau of Industrial Development, during closing proceedings today in the offices of Attorney Robert Vailmont, Doylestown.

The total cost of the project is $168,000. Ten per cent of the cost was supplied by a local community contribution; and the first mortgage of $84,000 was obtained from a local bank. PIDA's loan of $67,200 is at the rate of 2 per cent per annum repayable over a term of 20 years.

2 Dead, 5 Missing In Ship Crash

LE HAVRE, France (UPI) — The American freighter Lucille Bloomfield collided with the French gasoline tanker Port Manech in the mouth of Le Havre harbor last night. The French tanker burst into flames and officials said today seven persons were feared dead.

Authorities said there were no injuries aboard the Lucille Bloomfield, 6,103 tons out of Galveston, Tex.

But two persons aboard the tanker died of burns and five crewmen were missing.

Tavern Looted In Croydon

A Croydon tavern was burglarized of $75 yesterday after thieves pried open a front door to make their middle-of-the-night entry.

Bristol Township police said Frank's Tavern, State Road and Second Ave., was broken into between 8 p.m. Sunday and 10:30 a.m. yesterday.

Rudy Baehr, owner of the two-story frame building, said the money was taken from a pool table, juke box and bowling machine.

Bristol Man 'Satisfactory' After Auto-Train Accident

A Bristol man is reportedly in satisfactory condition in Lower Bucks County Hospital today as the result of a car-freight train accident at 7:55 last night.

Neil McDevitt, 31, of 646 Pine St., was taken to the hospital by Bristol police. He was suffering from a possible concussion, and head and hand lacerations.

Trenton Ave. Police said the accident occurred at the Trenton Ave. grade crossing near Jefferson Ave. Patrolman Al Eastlack, who investigated the mishap, said the car came to rest some 25 to 30 feet east of Jefferson Ave. McDevitt was outside the auto, but dazed, police said.

Cause of the accident was not available from the police report which was still incomplete this morning.

The owner of the automobile is Phillip J. Waters of the same address, police said.

The car was reported by police to be a total loss.

Libraries Get $18,141

Bucks County libraries today received $18,141 in state subsidies.

The funds are part of $12 million in subsidies mailed today to 279 local public libraries throughout the Commonwealth.

This represents an increase of $548,639 over payments made last year.

In making public a detailed breakdown of the payments, Gov. William W. Scranton said participating libraries have increased by 49 since the program began in 1962, and that 12 more received checks this year than last.

Here is a breakdown of the funds for Bucks County libraries:

County Library, $7,865; Doylestown, $1,777; Langhorne, $762; Regional, $7,333; New Hope, $120; Yardley, $284.

Levittown Woman Hurt

A Levittown woman was injured last night in a two-car accident at the Route 1 entrance to the Two Guys Discount Department Store in Middletown Township.

Julie Neida, 42, of 40 Gingerbush Road, Goldenridge, was treated and later released at Lower Bucks County Hospital for a whiplash injury. Her car was struck at 7:25 p.m. by one operated by Cecil R. Gilbertson Jr., of 4024 Loring St., Philadelphia, police said.

Officer James Klein estimated damage to her vehicle at $400 and charged her with failure to make a turn in safety. Gilbertson's car also had $400 damage.

Life on a college campus is great.

That's the word from Lt. Thomas Stewart of the Bristol Township police department who's back on duty after spending two weeks at the University of Louisville, Ky.

He and Detective Robert Clark attended a seminar on the scientific investigation of crime.

And now for these burglars.

Bristol Township's police department recently hired three "instant" patrolmen.

Two of the 11 new appointees are members of the Philadelphia police force. The third, Richard Baetzel, is a Lower Makefield Township patrolman. He placed first in the Civil Service examination.

All three have gone through the Philadelphia Police Academy training school and will not undergo the eight-week grind again. This means they'll be able to be uniformed and out on the road with experienced township officers quicker than the other recruits.

May Create New Voting Area Here

By BEN McELVEEN
Courier-Times Staff Writer

Lower Makefield Township may split the north voting district and thus create a new voting area, it was learned last night following a board of supervisors meeting.

Two committee people from the north district reported to the supervisors that word had been received from Doylestown that the district could be divided.

The two are Mrs. Carlton Leedom and Lloyd Klatzkin, north district committee people. They approached Supervisors Bill Mackensen and Russell Carter to request a public meeting as soon as possible "in order to push it through in time for the primaries."

No Date Set Yet

Mackensen said this morning no date had been established yet for the meeting. But he confirmed that the plans are in the works to investigate dividing the north district, which is the old rural section of the township.

He noted that the population in that area has risen to a point where voters at the polls had to wait in long lines to vote. If the voting district were divided, he said there would be two polling places.

One would be at the Quarry Hill School and the other in Woodside at the old voting place.

Suggests Dividing Line

Klatzkin discussed the dividing line in the north district, saying it might start at Newtown Road and lead to Creamery Road. However, the actual dividing line would have to be established later.

The district could be divided because of the population increase in the township. The last count showed there is a population of 10,635, a sharp rise over the previous census in 1960 showing 8,604 township residents.

The north district had grown along with the township and it includes the Pinebrook Farms and Mt. Vernon Estates developments.

The general procedure for splitting a district is for the township officials to petition the county courts to divide the area. If approved, the new committee people's names would go on the primary ballot.

In a similar move, Morrisville Council just last week voted to petition the courts to create a fifth ward due to the population rise. Morrisville would divide one ward in order to do it.

Presently, the township has six voting districts. They are south one, two, three, four and five, and the north district. The railroad serves partially as the

Adult School Lists New Bird Course

With Spring "just around the corner," the Pennsbury Adult School has incorporated into its Spring program a course for birdwatchers.

Under the guidance of George Carmichael, instructor of the "Birdstudy" course, students will learn to recognize local bird species as well as study bird behavior and habitats.

Though the course is intended mainly for the beginner and the casual observer, it will also provide useful techniques for the experienced birder as well. Opportunities will be provided for serious study as well as aids to scout and youth group leaders for projects for bird study. If students of the class are interested, field trips outside class hours will be arranged.

Carmichael, who earned his bachelor's degree in Biology at Tufts University, has done graduate work in cytology, field botany, ecology and parasitology. He is a member of the National Wildlife Federation and the American Museum of Natural History.

The course will be given every Tuesday evening at Medill Bair High School in Fairless Hills beginning Feb. 23. Registration may be made at William Penn Junior High School in Fairless Hills on Feb. 16 and Feb. 23. For further information, Duane Bair, director of the Pennsbury Adult School, may be reached at William Penn Junior High School.

Quarry PTA Lists Topic At Meeting

Representatives of the Pennsbury Joint School Board will speak before the Quarry Hill Elementary School PTA at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the cafeteria.

The discussion will concern the building of a proposed new elementary school on Edgewood Road, Lower Makefield, a spokesman said.

The Quarry Hill PTA executive board recommended immediate and complete construction of a 21-room school at the site, according to Mrs. Lewis Wagner, PTA spokesman said.

Following this discussion, Mrs. Emma Morley, Quarry Hill librarian, will talk on the library program at the school on Quarry at Creamery Roads. Joseph Malloy, principal, will describe the over-all functions of all Pennsbury Elementary Schools' libraries.

Alarm Sounds But No Fire

Firemen were sent to the Owens - Illinois plant on State Road, Croydon, this morning but when they arrived they found no fire.

Harry Beck, chief of Croydon Fire Co. No. 1, said the plant's alarm went off but he could not ascertain the cause. The alarm sounded shortly after 11:30 a.m.

Yardley Citizens Say Sewers Need Airing

Yardley residents last night said they felt the new sewer system was being rushed through without enough discussion at public hearings.

Two residents questioned members of Borough Council on sewers at its monthly meeting. They are Eugene Reimer of College Ave. and Harold Hershberger of Morgan Ave.

The two wanted to know if a public meeting was going to be held on the new sewer project, and why one was not held before construction bids are accepted.

Get OK To Proceed

Last Friday, the Yardley Sewer Authority announced it had been notified by the Federal government to proceed with advertising for bids for construction of the sewers.

Thomas B. Cole, council president, said many citizens' questions had been answered at the first public meeting held several months ago.

He also said other questions could not be answered until after the bids are received at a public meeting at 8 p.m. Feb. 1 in Yardley Community Center.

Preparing Brochure

Cole noted the sewer authority is preparing a brochure which will answer many questions on the new sewers and it will be distributed at the meeting Feb. 1.

Cole said that once all the bids were in, the sewer authority would better be able to answer citizens' questions on the new sewer system scheduled to be built in the borough.

John Fitzpatrick, authority chairman, said the bids are not expected to be awarded until after review by borough engineers.

Sewer construction is expected to start in early spring. Yardley hopes to obtain about $151,000 in Federal aid for the project.

Other Action

In other matters, the borough council —

—Directed Fred Bebbington, borough solicitor, to write a letter to the Department of Forests and Waters to try and rekindle interest in a project brought up 10 years ago to replace a foot bridge over the Delaware Canal at Fuld St. with a bridge capable of handling vehicular traffic. The foot bridge recently collapsed and the borough approved $696 payment in repairs to install temporary props for the three-foot wide span.

Rec Board Sets Dance Classes

A series of advanced dance lessons will be sponsored by the Lower Makefield - Yardley Recreation Board, beginning Thursday at 9 p.m. at Makefield School.

Earl Murphy, director, said the Arthur Dale Studios of Trenton will conduct the dance lessons. A small fee will be charged for each couple in attendance.

The classes will cover all popular dance steps, including the Twist, Frug and the Swim.

Church Guild Sets Prayer, Communion

The St. Martha's Guild of the Church of the Incarnation, Morrisville, will meet at 8:45 a.m. tomorrow for Morning Prayer and Corporate Communion.

An all-day meeting is scheduled following the service and will be held in the Parish House, 320 N. Pennsylvania Ave.

Members were asked to bring a sandwich. Dessert will be served.

Mrs. Fred Stephenson, president of the guild, announced that the morning hours will be spent making cancer pads for the Morrisville Visiting Nurses Association.

The program for the afternoon will feature a guest speaker, representing the Visiting Nurses Association, who will talk on her work.

A short business meeting will follow. Members were urged to attend all-day if possible, or at least for a portion of the day's program. New members are welcome, a spokesman, Louise M. Potashnick said.

dividing line between the north and south districts.

During the public meeting last night in the township building, the supervisors —

—Re-appointed Atwood Brockbank, 10 Hillside Lane to a five - year term on the Building Authority.

—Appointed Charles E. Shropshire to 29 Green Ridge Road to fill the unexpired term of Thomas Hall, who resigned. The term runs until Nov. 19, 1966. Shropshire is the former township CD director.

—Approved the minutes of two previous meetings and the vouchers for payment.

Praises Bond

—Were praised by James Logan of 1207 Evergreen Road for their "quick action" in selecting a qualified new township manager. On Jan. 4, the supervisors appointed Joseph G. Zainea of Grand Rapids, Mich., as the township manager, replacing William H. Struwe, who quit Dec. 28 to accept a similar post in Moorestown, N.J. Zainea's starting salary will be $8,500. He begins Feb. 1.

Mrs. Florine Purdy of Edgewood Road agreed with Logan's comment and praise of the supervisors, adding, "You certainly did much better than the Democrats in Falls Township."

—Heard a complaint about a "dangerous" intersection at Manor Lane and River Road, and a request for a street light at the site from one unidentified resident.

Russell Carter, board chairman, said the township had recently approved several new street lights, but that three had not been delivered yet. He said one of these was earmarked for the intersection.

Men's Assn. To See Football Film

Warren E. Harris, a member of Princeton University's freshman football coaching staff, will be guest speaker at a meeting of the Men's Association of First Presbyterian Church, Morrisville, at 6:30 o'clock tonight.

Harris, who will join Head Coach Richard W. Colman's varsity staff as an assistant coach this fall at Princeton, will also show films of the Princeton-Yale football game.

A 1943 graduate of Missouri Valley College and holder of a master's degree from Colorado State University, Harris was active in football, basketball and track as an undergraduate. He earned all-conference recognition as a halfback in football and obtained Little All-American status in his senior year.

He formerly coached at his alma mater, then went to the University of Pennsylvania in 1960 with varsity football coach John Stiegman and served as end coach for two seasons.

All fathers and sons were invited to the dinner-meeting to be held in fellowship hall at the church, N. Pennsylvania Ave.

Yardley Asks For Snow Aid

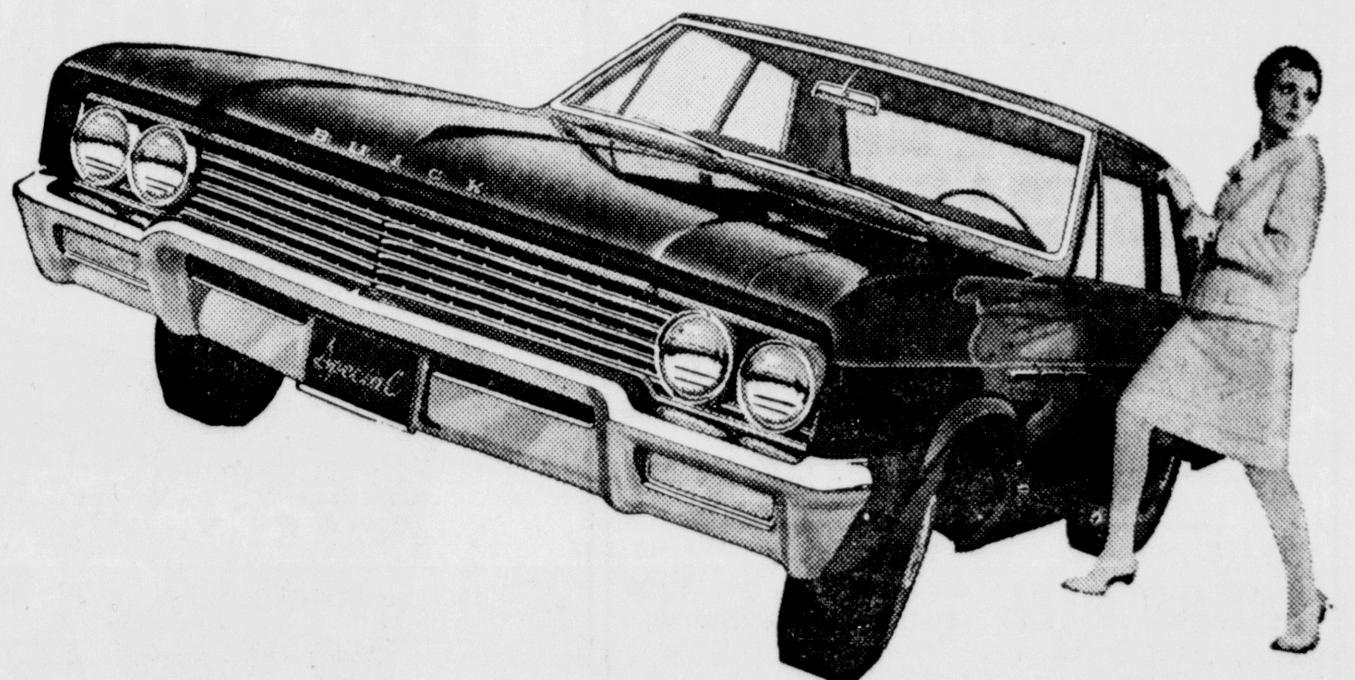

Yardley Borough Council last night appealed to residents to cooperate in removing snow from their sidewalks and to keep parked vehicles off the street.

Fred Bebbington, borough solicitor, said the council considered taking legal action to force residents to remove snow but decided to request their cooperation first.

"It is a serious handicap to other residents to have to walk through snow on the sidewalks," he said. "In addition, parked vehicles should be kept off the streets and parked in drives to enable snow removal plows to do a good job on the streets."

Buick Special V-6 goes easy on gas.

Its low price goes hard on your resistance.

We put 6 big reasons to buy a Buick Special under the hood. And another small one on the price tag. The six are a set of the liveliest, thriftiest cylinders that ever zipped you merrily on your way. They're all arranged in neat, smooth V-fashion. They add up to 225 cubic inches and 155 horsepower, and make other arrangements of 6 cylinders seem primitive. That's not all. Special sports Buick comfort, Buick style and traditional Buick quality. The price tag? We saved the best for last.
